Mission

Dinners with Love helps hospice agencies partner with local restaurants to care for hospice patients and their families by providing free, delivered meals.

Vision

Our vision is to have successful Dinners with Love programs operating in as many hospice agencies in the United States as possible.

Values

Community

The support of friends, family, and sometimes strangers can help those facing an end-of-life transition. We provide opportunities for organizations, restaurants, and individuals to quietly offer a helping hand.

Connection

We will all face the death of loved ones and the end of our own life. This deep connection we share—the universal participation in the cycle of life—moves us to acknowledge our shared humanity through helpful action.

Caring

We strive to improve the quality of end-of-life care for patients and their families. During a difficult time we hope to lighten the load of those who are passing and those who are close to them.

Integrity

We aim to offer consistent, quality support to those implementing a Dinners with Love program. We respect the unique needs of each of our partners and appreciate and honor their generosity. We respect the confidentiality of all our clients.

Our Story

In 2003 chef Sheri Sullivan, the former owner of Sheri's Diner and Plan-It Sheri Catering in Brandon, Vermont, became a hospice volunteer. She quickly realized that as someone approached the end of life, food could offer comfort and be a gift of love. Sheri soon began donating meals to hospice patients and their families in her community.

Inspired by the difference these meals made, and the depth of gratitude expressed by patients and their families, she was moved to create a model that could be replicated in any hospice agency nationwide. She reached out to other local restaurants and chefs, and with their help and the help of friends, started Dinners with Love, Inc., in 2009. In 2010, DwL became a 501(c)(3) nonprofit based in Brandon, Vermont.

Impact

Since 2009, Dinners with Love has delivered more than 4,300 donated meals to hospice patients and their families. 2015 was a record year for our organization. Volunteers drove more than 15,000 miles to deliver more than 2,500 meals.
